MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

Joseph Terrell, colored, was the victim of a murderous assault by Noah Waddy, a colored man, in a lunch room conducted by a colored man named William Turner, at 1406 King street, about one o'clock yesterday morning. Terrell entered the place and becoming disorderly was ordered out. He later returned and resumed his offensive conduct, when Waddy picked up an axe and made a deadly assault on him, fracturing his skull, after which Waddy escaped. Terrell was later placed in the ambulance and hurried to the Alexandria Hospital where he was attended by Dr. Moore, Kilpatrick and Powell. Terrell's condition is grave, although his recovery is possible. Waddy is still at large.

DEATH OF F. O. SPINKS.

Mr. Frank O. Spinks, whose critical illness had been mentioned in the Gazette, died shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening at his home, 1448 Duke street. The deceased was an old and well-known resident of Alexandria. He was at one time manager of the old Mount Vernon cotton factory on north Washington street. Mr. Spinks was about sixty-four years old. He leaves a widow and three children—Counsellman Frank O. Spinks and Misses Ruth and Margaret Spinks. The funeral took place from the residence this afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. C. D. Balla, and the interment was in Union cemetery. The pallbearers were six nephews of the deceased.

Mr. S. D. Dwyer has been awarded the contract by Judge Nicol for repairing the building on the northeast corner of King and Washington streets, recently damaged by fire.

THE NEW COMET.

It is estimated that the new comet will rise and set from 10 to 15 minutes farther behind the sun every night from now on. It will be visible tonight within a few minutes after sunset and will be seen first just to the westward of Venus, or what is commonly known as the evening star. If the sky be clear, it will be visible for about an hour.

A NIGHT WITH THE SPIRITS.

The great Haddon, the man of mystery, at the Surprise next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights—show starting nightly at 9 o'clock, after regular picture show. The great Haddon whose wonderful performance at the New National Theatre, Washington, recently created a sensation, is to appear at the Surprise Theatre next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights in his famous scientific test: science which is said to be the most marvelous exemplification of occult, psychic, spiritualistic phenomena ever witnessed. Haddon is under the management of Kaw and Erlanger, the big theatrical booking firm in New York. This of itself is a sufficient guarantee of the merits of the attraction. Among the most startling demonstrations offered on Haddon's programme may be mentioned table lifting, spirit rappings, messages from the dead, telepathy, occult and psychic phenomena. It is a foregone conclusion he will be greeted by a large audience. The price will be only 10 cents and the show will start at 9 o'clock, right after the regular picture show. Those wishing to remain for the Haddon show can purchase tickets before going into the picture show which will be run as usual at 5 cents. The people of Washington paid from 25 cents to $1 to see this same performance at the National Theatre.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

The one hundredth anniversary of the founding of St. Paul's Church was celebrated yesterday with impressive and interesting ceremonies. The other two Episcopal churches in this city, Christ and Grace, were closed in the morning in order to permit their respective congregations to participate in the services. The recess chancel of the church was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers and the elaborate musical programmes published in Saturday's Gazette were most admirably rendered and greatly enjoyed by the large congregations which filled the edifice to the doors and which embraced members not only of the Episcopal churches, but those from practically every other congregation in the city, besides visitors from Washington and the surrounding country.

The services began at 7:30 o'clock in the morning with holy communion celebrated by Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of the church. The services were well attended notwithstanding the early hour. The main service was at 11 o'clock which began with the processional hymn by a vested choir of nearly fifty voices and ended with the recessional. In this service Rev. David Barr, now of Washington, Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Church; Rev. Angus Crawford, dean of the Episcopal Theological Seminary; Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis, also of the Seminary; Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Church, and Bishop R. A. Gibson took part. Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, was prevented by sickness from being present.

The bishop took his text from First Samuel, 7th chapter and 12th verse: "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." "Hitherto" is a most interesting and instructive address gave a history of St. Paul's Church from 1810, to the present time, also brief biographies of its six rectors—Rev. William Gibson, 1810-1812; Rev. William H. Wilmer, D. D., 1812-1820; Rev. William Jackson, 1827-1833; Rev. J. T. Johnston, 1831-1839; Rev. G. H. Norton, D. D., 1839-1893; Rev. P. P. Phillips, present rector, 1893-1910.

In an impressive manner the bishop told of the influence for good St. Paul's Church has exerted in the community and in fact over the entire diocese, and paid just and eloquent tribute to the worth of its six rectors. At 2:30 o'clock in the evening the scholars of the five Episcopal Sunday schools of the city and vicinity assembled in the Norton Memorial Hall and marched in procession into the church, filling almost the entire edifice. Rev. P. P. Phillips read a short service and Bishop Gibson addressed the children, endeavoring to interest them in missions foreign and domestic. Besides the 600 children, many adults were present. The concluding services of the anniversary were held last night when Rev. Dr. Berryman Greer, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, preached a most eloquent sermon. He spoke of the difference between faith and hope; portrayed the faith and activity of a century ago, and contrasted it with the conditions of today. He also paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the late George H. Norton.

The services throughout the day were both interesting and edifying and the many who attended will pleasantly remember them for years to come.

The present church edifice was built under the rectory of Rev. William Holland Wilmer, D. D., and the corner stone was laid by Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons in June, 1817, and the church was consecrated in May, 1818. The edifice was constructed at a cost of $30,000. It has a seating capacity of 1,500 people. About five years ago a recessional chancel was added and Norton Memorial Hall was built. It is now the largest Episcopal Church in the city.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Skidmore took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her niece, Mrs. O. J. W. Sammers, on Duke street. Rev. Charles D. Ballou, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, conducted the service. The pallbearers were Messrs. E. L. Allen, W. L. Allen and Charles Mackin, of this city, and Messrs. Harvey and Lewis Carlin, of Washington, nephews of the deceased, and James Duncan, of this city. The interment was in Union cemetery.

The funeral of the late Cornelius O. Wells took place from Grace Church at three o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Edgar Carpenter officiated and Oseola Tribe of Red Men attended, six of the oldest members of that organization acting as pallbearers. The interment was in Union cemetery.

The funeral of Mr. William D. M. Buio, infant son of Mr. William M. Buio, Edith O. Buio, who died Saturday, took place from his parents' home, 804 Duke street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. W. F. Watson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, conducted the services.

Bowie, president of the association; George V. Peyton, superintendent of the Washington division of the Southern Railway; E. O. NOT A CANDIDATE.

In mentioning possible candidates to oppose C. O. Carlin in the congressional contest in the Eighth district, The News Leader of Thursday mentioned Mr. John W. Ryan, former speaker of the House, as one of the possibilities. The information leading to this statement has been found to be inaccurate, and Mr. Ryan's name on the list of candidates a mistake. He was not in the conference of Eighth district leaders here. Mr. Ryan has no intention of entering the race for Congress against Mr. Carlin, and was surprised as anybody to hear that he was to be a candidate for Congress from the Eighth district. [Richmond News Leader.]

BASKETBALL.

The game of basketball at Army H. Hall Saturday night resulted in a victory of the A. L. I. quint after they had played two very fast halves with the boys from Fort Hunt. At the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 3 in favor of the A. L. I., but during the first few minutes of the second half the men from Fort Hunt showed a burst of speed and for some time it looked as if they would tie the score of the victors, but the A. L. I. soon found their stride and commenced to pile up the score. Score 27 to 10. The following was the line up and summaries:

The Tillman Separate.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 24. —Mrs. Tillman alleges that her husband, R. B. Tillman, jr., has repeatedly insulted and brutally and cruelly treated her; that he has taken the whisky cure three times, only to return in worse condition, and that he has squandered much of her estate.

She alleges that her husband practically kidnapped their children while she was ill, and decided them to his father on the ground of her "unfitness and inability to raise the children as they should be raised." In reply Mrs. Tillman declared she owns her own home and has a fixed income sufficient to care for her children.

The Supreme Court before which the habeas corpus was instituted, issued an order requiring Senator Tillman to show cause why he should not return the children to the mother. Mrs. Tillman comes from one of the most prominent families in the Palmetto State. She is a grand-daughter of ex-Governor Pickens.

When attorneys sought to bring the suit in Supreme Court, justices decided it should be brought in Circuit Court, but agreed to hear argument this afternoon on this point.

It had been expected that the Tillman charge that Mrs. Tillman was unfitted to care for the children would lead to a scandal, but it is said the Tillmans have expressly declared they have no intention of attacking her character in the slightest. Mrs. Tillman's petition for a writ of habeas corpus accompanied by fifty affidavits, each signed by 25 or 30 residents of Hygefield her home.

Damage by Ice Gorge.

Washington, Del., Jan. 24.—Fifty houses washed away, two big plants destroyed, a railroad station moved across the track of the Columbia division of the P. B. and W. Railroad, comprises the damage done by the biggest ice gorge that ever visited this locality.

The railroad track for three miles is covered with ice to the depth of from two to fifteen feet. Steamships are working at both ends of the pack and fifteen hundred men are engaged by the railroad to open the road. This will not be accomplished, however, until probably Wednesday and perhaps Thursday.

The problem the railroad is facing is what to do with the ice when it is taken up from the tracks, as the pack is 45 feet deep in some places.

One of the big plans destroyed is that of the Rowland Manufacturing Company.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, MARY VIRGINIA CHESIRE, who departed from this life, January 24, 1899—eleven years ago today.

In the grave yard softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we love so dearly
In her lonely, silent grave.

Thou art not forgotten, mother dearest,
Nor will you ever be;
As long as life and memory lasts
We will remember thee.
